“ My little brother was the funniest person in any room. And if you got him with his twin, you have a world-class comedy show going on lol. Stefan also had the biggest heart of anyone that I’ve ever known. People say stuff like that all the time, but in this case it’s true. we saw a lot of horrible things growing up and we went through a lot of trauma together and it affected us differently. My brother just like anyone else has made mistakes in life, but he was working diligently to find an answer on how to be a better version of himself. God deals with all of us And his own way, and he was finding his way. I’m glad that he’s finally free from all of the pain of this world. I take comfort, knowing that he’s wrapped in the loving embrace of our Lord and savior finally with his father at rest. Please, if you knew my brother feel free to share below , we need the encouragement and love. All we have are our memories and I will always hold you Stefan in my heart not just your sister but your friend I’ll always love you and I’ll spend the rest of my life. Missing you until I see you again, baby brother.
